A Precious Boon to Woman. Words of Praise.

I most earnestly entreat every female expecting to be confined to use Mothers' Relief. Coupled with this enteraty I will add that during a long obstetrical practice (forty-four years), I have never known it to fall to produce a quick and safe delivery.

H. J. Holmes, M. D.

A lady from one of the counties of Middle Georgia who has been acting midwife for many years, writes "I have disposed of all the Mothers' Friend you sent me, and I am delighted with it. In every instance where it has been used, its effects have been all that I could ask. I consider it a great blessing."

nan writes: "My wife used your Mothers It lend at her fourth confinement, and her testiments that she passed through it with one-half the su fering of either of her former confinements, and re-covered from its effects in much less time. She also ecommended it to a lady friend who was about to be confined for the first time, and she says: "I have never seen any one pass through this great trial with so much ease and so little suffering."

COOK'S SUICIDE,

The Life History of William H. Cook of Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 8.—A bullet fired by his own hand Wednesday put an end to William H. Cook, a man with a remarkable life history. He was one of the best-known persons in the city. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon he walked into the place kept by Mary Watton alias "Philadelphis Mary," No. 2 Dia-mond square, and ordered whisky. He drank un-til he was drunk, and about 4 o clock he went into the tollet-room in the rear of the place, and a few minutes later a shot was heard from there. Magg.e McGuire, the barmaid, ran to ascertain the cause and found Cook shot through the left temple. a 23-caliber pistol by his side, lying in a pool of blood.

German origin. There is a growing feeling here of

On the contrary, the Indian and home authorities have thoroughly agreed on the necessity of a breathing space. The reason of this is stated to be that England's posireason of this is stated to be that England's posi-tion in India is not so strong as was anticipated. The native press is not unanimously enthusiastic in England's behalf, and the frontier force is insufficiently mobilized. This explains why men and material are still being dispatched in haste to India. I understand that Gladstone has papers in reserve showing a strong case for peace. If there were any real adverse sentiment to the Administration among the Democratishers, none of them are fools enough to think any buildoxing tactics would change the line of policy marked out by the President. The most that is ever heard here in the way of disastisfaction is occasional grumbling from statesmen who are remaining in Washington to get some of their people in places. Where the number is very large the statesman sometimes finds that he is obliged to stay in Washington longer than he cares to. As a natural consequence he relieves himself by grumbling in private. None of these gentlemen, nowever, have any serious criticism to make. The President is every day making new friends by his firm and consistent policy. Some of the working Democrats are much encouraged over the suspension of Postmaster. Palmer at Chicago yesterday. Some of them seem to argue from this that the Administration is changing its policy in the direction of making more sweeping changes, and toat it intended to remove officials without any regard to the length of time of their commissions. The President has not changed his policy. Removals will not be made, except for cause, before the expiration of a commission. Mr. Palmer, it was shown, had collected assessments from his clerks in the Chicago Post Office, and had used his office as a partisan headquarters. All postmasters of this kind will be suspended just as fast as their cases are reached.

Judge Holman of Indiana, who has been one of the most uncompromising enemies of jobbery and one of the most earnest advocates of Civil Service Reform, said to-day that he was well satisfied with this Administration. It was going ahead fast enough to suit him. He thought the appointing powers could not take too much time in selecting good men. The appointing of a bad man was in the nature of a public calamity. It by no means followed because a man was labeled a Democrat, that he was desirable for a public position.

Judge Holmar, thinks that the President is pleasing the great mass of the Democratic party and the entire country. He is making more reputation for himself because of his care and conservatism, and his disregard of mere ordinary caims of patronage politicians. He though that his Administration would, therefore, be one of the strongest, and in its general features would so streng hea the party as to maure its continuance in power for a great many years.

This work consumed considerable time, and its result will be made public later. After supper a meeting was held at the Court House at which Mr. B. B. Morrell, Mo., May 8.—Another block of brick buildings in the center of this city was consumed by fire this morning, together with their contents. Rice and family, Tom Dearkee and family, Huits & Austin, physicians, and Mrs. Thomas blackburn. They had barely time to escape with their lives. Nearly all of their furniture was destroyed. The ground floors were occupied by Wallace J. Davis, publisher of the Moberly Headlight, Fort & Wayland.agricultural implements and W. B. Jones' meat-market. There was nothing saved from the printing office but the books of the establishment and two keeps of ink. Nearly all the machinery was saved from the adjoining room and the meat-market stock was moved in time. The building occupied by the Headlight office belonged to James W. Harnett of Huntsville and was insured in the California Insurance Company of San Francisco for $40,000. The other buildings were the property of Col. H. T. Fort and the two were insured for $4,000. The Headlight office was partially insured. The loss fell heavily upon Mr. Davis, the property of Traney as a dry good store was badly damaged, as were the contents. The hardware store of P. H. Nise was also scorched, and light wares of every variety suffered from rough handling.

THE Democrats of Illinois were caught napping, and the country is shocked to learn of the dreadful prospect that Logan will return to the Senate to murder the English language and file claims against Indian reservations.

to men who put on the livery of love to deceive and betray confiding females. Mr. JOHN WHEELER of Kansas City having put his property out of his hands to escape a judgment of $20,000 damages in favor of his relative, Miss IDA WHEELER, whom he had betrayed under a promise of marriage, she filed a lien for the amount on the estate of his wealthy father in Cass County and prosecuted him criminally. On being convicted and sentenced to two years in the Penitentiary he offered her $5,000 to marry him and call it square, but she holds out for $10,000, and the outlook is that he will have to compromise on her own terms or go to the Penitentiary and be financially ruined

WHEN Mr. KEILEY denounced the occupation of Rome by VICTOR EMANUEL as an impious outrage and usurpation, he expressed the sentiments of the Emperor FRANCIS JOSEPH "to a T," but made himself a disagreeable person to the present King of Italy, and so unfitted himself for the Italian mission. But in his efforts to retain the latter he expressed such a cheerful acquiescence in the accomplished fact and spoke so praisefully of "the youngest of European monarchies," that he made himself a disagreeable person to FRANCIS JOSEPH also, and his transfer to Vienna will now have to be revoked. Mr. KEILEY's mouth seems to be a mine of diplomatic dynamite, and in discovering him Mr. BAYARD seems to have discovered his greatest rival for the championship in diplo riage of justice, they were less to blame cide according to the evidence, which consisted of PRELAN's impeached and unsupported testi-mony, contradicted by the unimpeached testi-nderstand. For years the poor sisters at St. Anne's Asylum have relieved the city of St. Louis of the cost and trouble of taking care of its foundlings. The city regularly sent its foundlings to them and regularly ained from making any reimbursement for the expense it imposed thereby. In all these years no public or private charity came to help them. Once, when an attempt was made to remit to the good sisters the cost of the water upplied by the city to their asylum, a noble lionaire arose and, at his own expense, sucseded in thwarting it by an injunction. Now, when a tardy sense of justice moves a Delegate to have the city pay for what it gets, the philanthropists, who have never paid a cent to help the sisters, never lifted a finger to provide other relief, come lobbying around the City Hall to prevent it. It will be a cause of regret if this dog-in-the-manger policy is insisted on. In the Thirty-Fourth Legislative District of Illinois a special election to fill the vacancy left by the death of Representative SHAW has esulted in the election of WEAVER, Repubcan, by a majority of 240 over LEEPER, Democrat. Such an unexpected Republican victory, when it was understood that the election of a United States Senator depended on the result, and in a district that gave CLEVELAND 2,000 majority last fall, is a remarkable event. The Democrats say that only 40 per cent of their vote was polled; that, as they had nominated a strong candidate, while the man named by a Republican committee to run against him seemed to be running without hope and only to RETERNAL vigilance is the price of the Illinois Senatorship.

The report of the Sanitary Aid Association shows that a great deal of work has been well done.

A GREAT many Republicans were yesterday converted to a late belief in civil service reformers.

The Republican this morning denies that young Vest has been appointed Inspector of Consultes. The Republican denied that Keiler had abandoned his Italian appointment.

If the Republican party in St. Louis is not strong enough to hold an indignation meeting as it is, what will it be when the axe of justice falls on the necks of the offensive partisans in Senatorship.

Keep up the organization, they were completely throw more their guard by the tactics of the Republicans, who kept away from the polis until late in the evening, and then, by means to the death of his wife, whom he had incured in that corporation. FULTON, Mo., May 8.—As the article, "Fancy Cows at Fulton," in the Post-Disparch of the 5th inst., here, in their "extreme officiousness" had gone out of their way and exceeded their authority in expending $8,000, which had been appropriated for another purpose, in purchasing fancy cattle for the asylum farm. Feeling confident that there was another side to this story, your correspondent "to make assurance doubly sure," and to present the truth in regard to this matter, which has been so grossly misrepresented throughout the State, called the attention of Mr. C. O. Atkinson, the steward of the institution, and Dr. Smith, the superintendent, to the article in question, their rerossly misrepresented throughout the State, called the attention of Mr. C. O. Atkinson, the steward of the institution, and Dr. Smith, the superintendent, to the article in question, their replies to which will show that Mr. Grantley shot wide of the nark. Dr. Smith after reading Mr. Grantley's statement, said: "I am more than as to mished at such a publication, because there has not been a shadow of a foundation for such a tocal misrepresentation of facts and perversion of the truth." He further stated as to the origin of this unfortunate Jersey herd, that about nine years since a friend in Kentucky sent him a fine Jersey cow and buil calf, that cost him, individually, $125, not a cent of this coming from the State funds. Having at that time sixteen or seventeen ordinary cows, I thought it a fine opportunity to improve the Asylum herd by crossing with the Jersey stock and our cows, and keeping all the female calves. In accordance with this course we reared from year to year ½, ¾ and ½ Jersey cows from our own herd. After four years deeming it beneficial for our stock, I traded the buil I got from Kennucky for a thoroughbred Jersey buil, paying a difference of $10 out of my own pocket, which animal unfortunately died in abut two months. Being pleased with the marked improvement in our c. tile, and to continue it, I purchased another fine Jersey calf, for which I, myself, paid $100. The natural increase continued until we had from forty five to fitry Jersey cows, the finest mik herd in the State, besides a number of calves. In 1884 this animal was sold, and the buil bought in Illinois, for which the State p id $100, and unfortunately proved to have pleuro-pneumona, the source of all the trouble among cattle in this county."

Mr. Atkinson, the steward, said that during the past eight years only $882.40 had been paid out of the asylum funds for he dairy herd, and that during the same period the value of beeves siaughtered for the use of the institution, taken from the herd, was $3.044.23, at the contract price during those years. Thus it appears that there is a sum of more than $2.000 to the credit of the cattle fund. Besides this, the yield of mile from this herd has been large and valuable. It appears beyond controversy that the poncy of the officers and managers of the asylum in purchasing the Jerseys and improving the to deliver an address on "Christian Work Among College Students," at the International Convention of the Y. REAL ESTATE.

Trade Languishing on Account of Cold Weather.

Very Few Transactions Accomplished -Renting Lively and Improving-A with less ice than any other Fair Demand for Money-Chat of the Exchange.

The week has been a decidedly dull one with the real estate agents, the snowfall of yesterday proving a fitting climax to a succession of tame and un-eventrul days. Some few of them are beginning to feel absolutely dejected over the possibility of the spring's going by without anything approaching a repetition of the business activity existing at this view of the situation, and remember that the season for real estate transactions is no more a matter to be regulated by the almanac than are the growing of the grass and the budding of the trees. With nature—a worthy dame with whose doings the real estate business is closely identified—a month at least behind hand in her spring operations, it is not to be wondered at that the buying and selling of land has also experienced a set-back. It is with residence lots as with all other salable commodities, they sell best when presenting their most attractive appearance, and considering that up to within a very few days back the earth was bare of the verduce which makes a nice little suburban corner lot look so temptin; it is not little suburban corner to Look so tempun. It is not to be wondered at that the spring boom has not yet put in an appearance.

A call at the Real Estate Exchange was rewarded with a few joking remarks from the genial Mark Priest, who was found with broom and shovel in hand, removing St. Louis real estate and building material from the floors of the Exchange.

Said Mark: "Rainy weather has had a somewhat depressing influence on realty, especially so upon the renting feature of it. During the fore part of the week the almost continual heavenly baths had the effect of keeping indoors the ladies who were anxious to sally forth and the effect of keeping indoors the ladies who were anxious to sally forth in pursuit of houses. The recent building of a street railway on Laclede avenue has given an impetus to inquiry after property on that avenue, especially for property way out. Active inquiries have been made by small storekeepers after twenty-five foot property on which to erect stores. In fact, this demand excends along Grand avenue from Baden—well, not to Dixie, but to Carondelet. Me wantee washee house. Have glootee one? said an almond-eyed celestial to me yesterday. I looked up several for John, who departed chatterion out his satisfaction in a babel of sounds." For the greater convenience of agents Mr. Priest has issued a neat placard showing the telephone numbers of the various members of the Exchange and of the newspaper editorial rooms.

houses. There is a slight inquiry for money which, with good security offered, can be had at 6 per cent."

Vallat & Vogel: "We made no sales during the week, but found renting very good. There was some little inquiry for money, which resulted in our placing a few small ioans."

James M. Carpenter: "Business is keeping along. The cold weather has had a somewhat depressing effect but, the future is all right."

Leon L Hull & Co. "There has been a good inquiry for real estate which promises well for the future. The inquiry for money was good and we made some loans. Renting was as good as usual at his time of the year."

Cavender & Rowse: "We made one little sale, that of 144 1-2 by 180 feec of ground on the east side of Temple avenue to Florence A. Wiest for $900. We also made several small loans and one of $10,000 at 7 per cent on property just west of Forest Park. Renting is fair. We found tenants for several houses during the week, including a couple of large houses."

Keure & Grace: "The week has been fairly lively and renting has been good." Mr. Watts, formerly of this firm, sold to Henry Petering 305 feet of ground on the south side of Lindell avenue, near King's Highway, at $30 per foot.

Lohmeyer & Co. "We sold ten acres on the Olive street road, nine miles from the city, for $1,600. There has been a very fair demand for houses, but the supply is also very large. The bad weather is keeping business back somewhat."

Rutledge & Horton: "The cold snap has made the market a duil one, but we are looking forward to ward to

as soon as the fine weather sets in to stay."

C. H. Turner & Co.: "There has been a better inquiry for real estate and for house to rent, but the increase in actual business has not amounted to much. The prospects, however, are favorable. We have several sales under weigh and shall soon be able to report their consummation."

Marcus A. Wolf & Co.: "We have done nothing this week. Business has been very dull in all its branches."

The paper above referred to denounced bicycle riding on Sunday, and yet Rev. Dr. John Fulton, whose Christian charity and worth and great ecclesiastical ability has been more than ever recognized by Evangelical pastors the past two months, says he can't see anything wrong in riding a wheel on Sunday. It may, perchance, have, been noticed that the inspiration, or at least the most energetic encouragement, of the anti-desecration movement has come from the Presbyterians, and hence the action they propose taking may seem a little too strict for some of the others, but, no matter why, the fact stands that the Evangelical Alliance in its projected step will not only voice Protestant opinion on the subject, but will also not have the unanimous support of its own members.

MEN'S AND YOUTHS' SUITS. The Cheapest Suit in this Lot is Worth $1250.

$7.65 Some three weeks ago we created quite a little stir around town by advertising 1,250 All-wool Suits for some time not slow to see the point, and "gathered them in." Last week we were fortunate anough to close out 2,000 assorted All-wool Cassimere, Cheviot and Blue Flanael Suits of a still better grade, some worth fully $15, and as we intend to keep up the music as long as the dollars dance, we give our friends another grand benefit at the same figure, and offer a choice of 40 new patterns at the old price, $765.
